

Truth and Beauty: a conference in honor of Karsten Harries

Yale University, Friday, April 28th and Saturday, April 29th, 2017

Tentative Schedule

Friday, April 28th

Location: LC 102. (Linsly Chittenden Hall, 63 High Street, Room 102)

1:00-1:15 Welcome. Steve Darwall, Chair of the Department of Philosophy.
Peter Salovey, President, Yale University.

1:15-2:45 Steven Crowell (Rice University), "Amphibian Dreams. Toward a Phenomenology of 'Human' Reason." Session chair, Samuel Fleischacker.

3:00-4:30 Anthony Kronman (Yale University), "Cusan Themes: Toward the God of the Modern World." Session chair, Amia Srinivasan.

4:30-4:45 Coffee Break

4:45-6:15 Dermot Moran (University College Dublin), "Empathy in Phenomenology:
Some Lessons." Session chair, Natalie Nenadic.

Saturday, April 29th

Location: LC 102

9:00-9:30 Continental Breakfast

9:30-11:00 Kathleen Higgins (University of Texas, Austin), "Some Questions Concerning Kitsch." Session chair, Hagi Kenaan.

11:15-12:45 Seyla Benhabib (Yale University), "Time, Action and Narrative in Nietzsche and Arendt." Session chair, Lawrence Vogel.

12:45-2:15 Lunch (on one's own)

2:15-3:45 Karl Ameriks (University of Notre Dame), "Holderlin's Path." Session chair,
Elizabeth Brient.

3:45-4:00 Coffee Break

4:00-5:00 Karsten Harries (Yale University), “Thoughts on the Arc of My Work.” Session chair, Lorenzo Simpson.

6:30 Banquet, at the Omni New Haven Hotel, 155 Temple Street.

(Reception, followed by dinner. The evening will include an opportunity for informal remarks and anecdotes about Karsten from conference attendees.)

This conference is made possible thanks to generous support from The Edward J. and Dorothy Clarke Kempf Fund at Yale University.